Description:

Introduction to structure and function of body's major organ systems. Note: must be taken in sequence. Does not satisfy the natural science requirement in COS or CHSS. Course requires use of organisms. Not available for Biology major credit.

Justification:

What: Adding BIOL 103 as a prerequisite.

Why: The students need a stronger introduction to Chemistry and Biological principals to be successful in this course. BIOL103 covers this material at an appropriate level.

Does this course cover material which crosses into another department? No
